

Partnering local tech communities?

BUILDING a tech community

Sensi is building a technology innovation community in Sierra Leone that will drive economic and social development through providing an open and stimulating community hub for young technologists and entrepreneurs to come together, develop their ideas and access cutting-edge tech, events, incubation programmes and training. We will unleash the untapped potential of young people interested in building businesses and making a difference in their careers.

GET IN TOUCH

	Remote mapping	Field mapping by 'outsiders'	Field mapping by locals	Local OSM - community
Database of geometries and assumptions based on imagery	x	x	x	x
Database of on the ground collected data		x	x	x
Database of local knowledge			x	x
Maintained database of local knowledge				x